Shooting at School Bus Stop

On December 11, 2007, at approximately 2:00 p.m., a shooting occurred at a school bus stop near the intersection of Alexander and Walnut Roads. It is believed that the motive for this shooting is the result of an altercation earlier today at Mojave High School. The Clark County School District Police arrested three male juveniles in that incident

Today's shooting occurred as two C.C.S.D. buses were dropping students off at Alexander and Walnut. Two suspects were waiting at the stop when the buses arrived, and the suspects opened fire after the students had exited the buses. This does not appear to be a random shooting; the shooters appeared to be waiting for someone on one of the buses.

Four out of the six that were injured are students from Mojave High School. Five of the injured are males and one is a female. It is not known at this time what school if any, the two remaining victims attend.

The two suspects are still outstanding at this time. The Clark County School District Police along with the LVMPD Gang Unit and other law enforcement agencies are actively working to identify and arrest these suspects.

Sheriff Doug Gillespie has assured Clark County parents and students that it is safe to send their children to school tomorrow. The LVMPD, Clark County School District Police, North Las Vegas Police and Henderson Police are working diligently to keep our schools safe. Law enforcement will be highly visible at many schools over the next few days.

As information becomes available regarding suspect arrest or any other developing information, updated press releases will be sent out.
